Message from the Guest Editor

Dear Colleagues,

The essays in this special edition of “Religion” will focus on Buddhism as an oral culture and spiritual approach that is grounded in innate human capacities, which, in conjunction with left-brain science and technology, can address the multiple contemporary crises with which we are faced. Authors who are interested should submit a proposed title and an abstract of 400–600 words, summarizing their intended contribution prior to preparing their manuscripts. Abstracts will be reviewed by the Guest Editor for the purposes of ensuring proper fit within the scope of the Special Issue, and then full manuscripts will be solicited. Please send the abstract to Guest Editor <dorr@yorku.ca>.

Timeline: Proposals should be submitted by 1 April 2021. Accepted proposals will be due no later than 10 September 2021.
